Xunlei Announces Sale of 8,000 sets of Digital NFT Collection

Entering a digital NFT ("Non-Fungible Token") collection era, Xunlei today announced public sale of digital NFT collection to Xunlei members with 5 different birds characters, and each has 10 hidden sets and 1,990 ordinary sets, in a total of 10,000 sets. There are 8,000 sets available for the first-round of sales, and the remaining 2,000 sets will be randomly distributed in other activities.

The NTFs have five different characters, including Unyielding Bird, Exploration Bird, Geeky Bird, Hip-pop Bird and Curiosity Bird, representing Xunlei's unique business and culture. The Unyielding Bird represents the spirit of Xunlei that never gives in and always embraces challenges. The Exploration Bird represents the spirit of Xunlei's cloud storage business that keeps up exploration and innovation. The Geeky Bird represents the spirit of Xunlei's research and development in blockchain, cloud computing, artificial intelligence and other cutting-edge technologies. The Hip-pop Bird represents the spirit that Xunlei demonstrates in the field of gaming and live streaming products, bringing happiness to customers. And the Curiosity Bird represents Xunlei's "innovation laboratory", which will generate exciting possibilities for Xunlei's future.

The enterprise NFT service platform, which is a blockchain technology based platform, provides technical support to the NFT public sales. The platform is not only a place to showcase NFTs, but also provides a full service of designing, minting, trading and management for enterprises and organizations. In addition, the platform will expand cooperation channels, enrich IP resources, upgrade digital collection contract templates, and other service functions, and it is aimed at becoming the most competitive and integrated digital collection service platform in China.

You may read more details of the report via the following link:
https://www.sohu.com/a/523161112_637114